FURRY MONSTERS

Dear Reader,

What's a monster? Well, monsters are one of a kind. Monsters come in all shapes and sizes, and have many different personalities.

Join us in embracing what Sesame Street's monsters truly are:

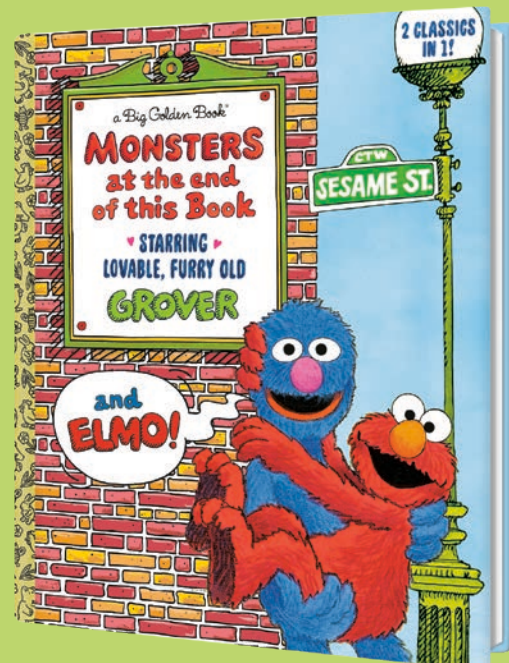

FURRY, LOVABLE, BRAVE

In this packet, you'll find lots of exciting activities that'll help you become brave! From learning about different feelings to drawing yourself conquering your own fears, you'll be on your way to earning your "I'm Not Scared of Monsters" certificate at the end of this packet. Plus, there's lots of exciting activities and coloring pages throughout for extra fun!

Have no fear—have fun!

FEELING FACES

Point to Grover's different faces and talk about his body language. Name the emotion and explain that all feelings are okay. You can say, "Look, Grover feels excited! He has both his arms in the air!" Make feeling faces along with Grover and talk about your emotions.

I'm NOT Scared of Monsters!

Today I learned that it's okay to be afraid and monsters are NOT scary!

Just like me, they are

FURRY, LOVABLE, AND BRAVE!
